A study published in June 2021 by researchers at University College London (UCL) revealed that TikTok's videos were found to be "gender stereotyped, objectifying, and often [showed] normalization of smoking and alcohol use" and also used hashtags in their videos related to body weight control, eating disorder recovery, sexual violence, sexuality issues and gender identity issues. The study goes on to say that children and adolescents are a primary user demographic for this app, and that the app uses "emotional manipulation" to "sustain engagement".

The following is an example of acceptable and inappropriate content that can be found on TikTok: In January 2021, TikTok removed a short video of Chinese millennials dancing on the street which had been uploaded by a popular group called "Loud Crew". The group uploaded 14 videos to TikTok, and soon after they were removed twice for infringing on copyright laws. A spokesperson from Shanghai authorities said that they had "strictly" enforced copyright laws on access to music videos and screen shots which are not authorised by the owners. The following video is considered inappropriate for young children because it shows adults taking shots and smoking while sitting on a couple of young boys. The adults involved are the child's parents, and the context in which all this occurs is not clear from the video."

Musical.ly features prominently in the movie "The Circle". The app is used by employees in the movie as a way to communicate, share and interact with the company's social media products. Musical.ly was also featured in the NBC series "Blacklist", Netflix series "Narcos", The Film Arcade, and Good Girls Revolt."

In an article published on Mashable, it was alleged that "For TikTok users, their content is worth money. And the company's revenue model relies heavily on selling ads to companies and brands that want to reach the people who are consuming all that video content." It continued by saying that

"In other words, TikTok relies on its users for their data in order to sell ads. But there's a huge flaw with this strategy: The app's algorithm has been shown to discriminate against certain communities of users and thus encourage less diverse engagement. In 2021, a class-action lawsuit alleged that TikTok discriminates against users based on ethnicity." This article was published on Mashable.",

Spiegel remained as CEO of Snap Inc. while Bobby Murphy became CTO, they both still had creative control over all aspects of TikTok. Neither Toutiao nor ByteDance has revealed exactly how it plans to monetize TikTok in the long term. "I think it will take a lot of time," says Gao. "Tencent knows that and we don't make any immediate pressure for them.",
